UCLA School of Nursing

February 2017 Issue

Highlights

So far 2017 is off to a great start! Read all about our recent events and happenings below:

Events: On January 24, the School held an exciting Career Day. The event was well attended with a dozen recruiters and an alumni panel who gave over 91 students career advice. Miss the day but would still like to see the alumni panel? Watch it here!

It was a feast of knowledge as Susan Given, MSN 84, shared her home and a home cooked meal at our first “Night with Nine Nurses.” The guests were Dean Linda Sarna and students from our Bachelor’s, Master’s and MECN program. If you are interested in hosting an event at your house, contact Jonathan Adrias at jadrias@sonnet.ucla.edu.

Research: Congratulations to our new T32 Nursing Fellows – Hafifa Siddiq and Sharee Anzaldo. Hafifa’s study will seek to increase understanding of the preventive health beliefs and interpersonal and community level influences on cancer screening behaviors of Afghan refugee women. Sharee’s study will identify the process in which Filipino American parents of a child with ASD (autism spectrum disorder) manage their child’s developmental disability.
