

UCLA School of Nursing researchers focus on the heart in February and year-round.

For each researcher, there was a defining moment that started them on their research path. Maybe it was a specific patient or being at the right place at the right time. For some, the path has been fairly straight, while others have had twists and turns. But all of their journeys are changing lives of patients and moving science and nursing practice forward. The difference these researchers are making shows why the UCLA School of Nursing is a leader in cardiovascular health.
